OUR SERVICE

Trilogixs

Company

Trilogixs offers a comprehensive range of IT services designed to drive business growth and efficiency. We specialize in web development, delivering responsive, user-friendly websites, and mobile app development with high-performance Android applications. Our game development services focus on creating engaging, multi-platform games with immersive designs. We provide secure e-commerce solutions that enhance shopping experiences, streamline management, and support payment integrations. Our API integration services boost connectivity and system performance, while Amazon outreach maximizes online visibility and sales. We ensure software quality through thorough testing and offer strategic consulting and outsourcing services to optimize processes and deliver cost-effective results.

OUR PROJECT

Trilogix delivers diverse projects in web, mobile, game development, e-commerce solutions, API integration, and Amazon outreach, driving growth and engagement.

Takavi Tutors

We at Trilogix helped our clients in achieving their goals.

Takavi Tutors is one of the fastest growing online platforms with a network of most trusted local tutors across America.

Moulvo

Our dedicated team is always there to help you in achieving your business targets. We did same for MOLUVO. A drop shipping store on Shopify where more than 200+ products are added daily.

Platinum Cars

Our Expert developers are always there to design and implement your ideas and turn them to reality.

In House Game development

We love to do new things. We have developed games and apps to provide fun and entertainment to our users.

City Car Simulation

City Car Simulation offers players a realistic driving experience through the bustling streets of a virtual city. From navigating busy traffic to parking in tight spots, this game simulates the day-to-day challenges of city driving. With a variety of vehicles, detailed environments, and real-time traffic systems, players can enjoy both casual cruising and precision driving in a dynamic urban landscape.

Data Cleaning

In this project, I focused on transforming poorly formatted data into a clean, usable format. The process involved meticulous cleaning, where I systematically removed duplicates, eliminated unnecessary whitespaces, and separated combined first and last names into distinct fields. This effort was essential in ensuring the data's integrity, enabling it to be used effectively for analysis and decision-making.
